Laila Shawa

4 April 1940 - 24 October 2022

© Inzajeano Latif courtesy of The Estate of Laila Shawa

In memory of Laila Shawa, a pioneering Palestinian artist and one of the most respected artists of her generation. Arts Canteen and AWAN Festival wish to express appreciation for her unwavering support over the years, and to celebrate her legacy and contribution to Middle Eastern art.

A feminist, activist and artist, Laila was many wonderful and inspiring things to friends and strangers.

Rest in Peace.

Welcome to AWAN Festival 2023

Welcome to AWAN festival 2023 - Arab Women Artists Now.

We are the UK's only festival dedicated to supporting the incredible work of female artists from the Arab world and across the diaspora, presenting an all-too-rare opportunity for topical, cultural and artistic exchange.

Our programme embraces a wide-ranging mix of creative projects expressed through film, literature, music, comedy, lecture and debate – whereby we challenge historic stereotypes and celebrate the richness and diversity within our culture.

During this current era of anxiety and despair for many, we choose to celebrate the revolutionary women who are dismantling the systems in place, and offering uplifting shafts of hope and light.

We are pleased to have the continued support of Arts Council England and our partners: Rich Mix, Grand Junction, The Arab British Centre and the Royal Albert Hall.

However, the real thanks needs to go to all the artists and attendees who have supported – and continue to support – us through the years.

We hope to see you at all our events this month.

Hawazin Alotaibi

Selected artworks from
'Fingerprints of a Lover' and

35-47 Bethnal Green Rd.
 London E1 6LA
 020 7613 7498
richmix.org.uk

We are honoured to display a curated selection of Hawazin Alotaibi's exquisite paintings throughout the duration of AWAN festival from 1-30 March. Hawazin's work challenges the gender norms within the Arab world, and blurs the boundaries of expression (literally, and metaphorically) through experimentation.

Hawazin (B.1993, Wisconsin) is a London-based Saudi-American interdisciplinary artist and DJ. She earned her BA in Painting at the University of the Arts London and her MA in Painting at the Royal College of Art. She works primarily with painting, audio, photo, and video editing.

The work on display examines the notions of gender, masculinity, and self-representation on social media of the ever-changing cultural and political dynamics in the Arab world, specifically Gulf countries. Hawazin experiments with motion glitches and distorts her paintings with photographs she's taken or collected from social media or cultural and religious books. A radical voice of the generation.

Beirut: the Aftermath

OPENING NIGHT

Film screening and in-person Q&A with Director Fadia Ahmad

Thursday 2 March 2023 7pm £6

RICH MIX

35-47 Bethnal Green Rd.

London E1 6LA

020 7613 7498

richmix.org.uk

Join us for the opening night of the AWAN Festival 2023 with a film screening of Beirut, The Aftermath, which will be followed by an in-person Q&A with the award-winning Director and photographer, Fadia Ahmad.

The film tells the tale a month after the August 4th blast, where an artist returns to Beirut to help rebuild what she can of her broken city. Retracing her usual itinerary of 10452 steps through the streets of Beirut, she seeks to portray the aftermath of the explosion that shook Lebanon to its core.

A journey that once fulfilled the goal of self-discovery now gives both Beirut and the blast's survivors a voice. Raw testimonials and powerful scenes recount the day everything collapsed all while showing the resilience of a people who don't want to give up. Individuals from all walks of life finally open up after what seemed like a lifetime of silence.

After the screening and Q&A, there will be an opportunity to purchase one of Fadia's prints of the city and a signed copy of her book 'Beyrouth Beirut'.

From Galilee to Beirut.

Live music by Samah Mustafa and Jana Saleh

Friday 3 March 2023, 8.30pm £10

RICH MIX

London E1 6LA

020 7613 7498

richmix.org.uk

Join us for an unmissable double bill with Palestinian singer-songwriter Samah Mustafa, featuring music from Beirut DJ Jana Saleh.

Samah Mustafa is an Arab Palestinian singer. Her musical journey was influenced by oriental classic singing and folk Arabic music, which she combined with modern music to develop her unique music style. Samah was also influenced by instrumental music and today she is a band leader; writing, composing and arranging ambient, folk and experimental music. Her sound is based on vocal and instrumental loops, musical images in vocal and lyrics. She was the main vocalist for various musical projects including Arab Baroque Music Project, Jawa Tour, New Star Competition and Yabous Palestinian Festival.

Jana Saleh is an active member of the Dj scene, with more than a decade of playing in clubs and parties in Lebanon, the Levant as well as Europe. Jana has a monthly residency on Radio Al Hara where she explores original material in 1hour sets. In addition, her DJ sets have been played on NTS Radio in England, Radio Nova in France, Radio Veneno in Brazil and Roots Radio in Turkey. Jana co-founded Lazarus Arts and Culture – a platform dedicated to promoting and programming music and artistic events from the Levant region.

The evening is presented by Arts Canteen in collaboration with Rich Mix.

Benghazi University students gathering (1960)

We're honoured to announce Sard (meaning 'narrative' in Arabic) — a project seeking justice and rewriting history, initiated by Sarah Giaziri, Najla Elageli and Sanaa El Mansouri.

An important project archiving Libyan oral history as a means to revolt, Sard collects and preserves the experiences of individuals who have lived through periods of political and cultural significance in the country's recent past.

Their mission is to build trust and facilitate dialogue between different communities and contribute to a more inclusive and democratic society.

Below is more information on the panelists:

Najla Elageli is an architect and curator, who founded @noonartsprojects which brings contemporary MENA art to the world stage. Najlaa curated multiple projects globally, including @shubbakfestival, @nourfestival, The Benetton Foundation and @casa_arabe

Sana Elmansouri is an important Libyan journalist, broadcaster and producer. She was the first Libyan to present on national TV in Tamazight, and founded the Libyan political party Libou (which she later left). She has recently been nominated for multiple positions by the current Presidential Council.

Sarah Giaziri is a human rights solicitor, journalist and campaigner. She worked at the @ffregister and the @rorypecktrust which advocate for the safety and welfare of freelance journalists.

Aerial Emotions

psi.ko

LUMA

Bint7alal

A phenomenal line-up of rappers, sound artists and DJs playing a range of percussive club sounds in addition to your favourite party classics from the Arabic-speaking world.

Featuring:

LUMA – an Iraqi-British DJ and radio host from SE London. She runs Habibti Nation, a collective and radio show on Balamii championing underground electronic music by femxle and non-binary artists from the South West Asia (Middle East) and North African region.

Bint7alal – a Palestinian rapper and producer now based in London. You've never heard anything like her before – smooth flows and dreamlike sounds digitalise her voice through auto-tune with electronic flare.

psi.ko – a London-based, Iraqi rap artist who's become the voice of a new generation. Her politically charged lyrics, intellectual wordplay and passionate energy will leave you feeling ready to combat the world.

Please note: this is an 18+ event.

The evening is presented by Arts Canteen in collaboration with Rich Mix.

Sunkissed Child

Amal Khalidi

Sana El Wakili

Tasneim Zyada

Chifaa Khelfaoui

Heba Alhayek

Join us for an evening of cabaret with a Middle Eastern and North African twist, featuring music, spoken word, and poetry from the ASWAT ('voices' in Arabic) of inspiring female Arab artists!

Sunkissed Child (Yasmina) originally from Lebanon, shares pieces of her life through various music genres, influenced by Neo-soul, R&B, Hip-Hop and Middle Eastern cultures.

Amal Khalidi is a multi-disciplinary, poet, musician, and storyteller. As a London born North African, their work attempts to understand their identity and the absolute silliness of the everyday.

Tasneim Zyada is a British-Palestinian spoken word artist and published poet. Her work explores the themes of identity, displacement, mental health and faith, with words that move the audience.

Sana El Wakili is a multidisciplinary artist based in London with North African heritage. Sana's poetry, writing and acting is influenced by spoken word and contemporary circus, music, visual art, as well as lived experience.

Chifaa Khelfaoui is a London-based Palestinian author. Her first book, Sambac Beneath Unlikely Skies, won the 2022 Palestine Book Awards and was chosen as a 2021 Book of the Year by The White Review, Middle East Eye and The New Arab.

Heba Alhayek is a spoken word artist, actor and writer, taking inspiration from hip-hop and conscious rap. She uses poetry to express her thoughts and emotions on the complications of life – particularly those faced by Arab women.

Wholeness: Homage to Maya Deren

Film screening and in-person Q&A with Director Sarah Al-Sarraj

Escape into a dreamlike state during our free 'Wholeness' screening, a short experimental animation film by director Sarah Al-Sarraj, who will also be joining us for an in-person Q&A.

Sarah's film is a study on the limits of subjectivity and the need to transgress them to recognise the natural world's sentience and reject the nature/culture and human/environment binaries created to dehumanise indigenous people.

Inspired aesthetically by the surreal dreamscapes of Maya Deren, an important figure in the 1940s avant-garde scene in New York, it is a homage to her exploration of dreams and subjectivity.

Sarah Al-Sarraj (she/they) is a predominantly visual artist working with painting, comic, writing and moving image. Her practice cultivates a visual language that aims to disrupt hegemonic power structures and hierarchies of knowledge production. Dreams, desire, altered states and secrets often feature.

Her practice is currently focused on conceptualising ideas around the natural world drawing from indigenous, queer, eco-anarchist, and Sufi metaphysical thought. Last year she completed Wysing's AMPLify residency and Open School East's Associates Programme. She was recently awarded a grant from the Arts Council to develop an animation practice.

Our River... Our Sky

Film screening and in-person Q&A with Director Maysoon Pachachi

Saturday 11 March 2023, 5.30pm  £5

 RICH MIX

35-47 Bethnal Green Rd.
London E1 6LA

Director Maysoon Pachachi tells the story of Sara, a single mother and novelist, shocked into silence, at a time of extreme sectarian violence and nightly curfews in Baghdad. She and her neighbours invite us into their everyday lives, as their world fragments and they attempt to renew a fragile sense of hope for a better future.

Dedicated to the youth of Iraq, Maysoon Pachachi's film offers a glance at the realities of ordinary life in Baghdad, a stark contrast to past Western media portrayals of the 2006 US-led invasion. A raw and powerful display of humanity, Pachachi's film explores identity and nationalism, and what it means to belong.

Through the chaos and destruction, the residents never let their ambitions and desires for the future fade. Yet, they can't help but contemplate leaving Iraq, and are forced to ask a painful question – who does Baghdad really belong to?

Join us to celebrate the remarkable apprenticeship programme between five UK-based Arab creatives and emerging female artists from Baghdad.

This year-long project, initiated by Arts Canteen and The Station (Baghdad), aims to empower Iraqi artists to take their practice to a new level. During this event, the artists will display the new work they've created, share their stories, and you will have the opportunity to connect live.

The project paired 5 Iraqi and 5 British artists together to create a mentorship programme which helped develop the skills of emerging Iraqi female artists and create new exciting work from a range of artistic practices including photography, music, animation, design and digital art.

The artists include:

(UK)

- Alaa Alsraji
- Sally Souraya
- Farida Eltigi
- DJ Luma
- Lara Kobeissi

(Iraq)
